

What parents think about public charter schools

Parents support having a charter school open in their neighborhood

Parents favor being allowed to choose their child's public school

> 30% of parents are interested in sending their child to a public charter school

This would mean potentially another 2 million students enrolled in charter schools

Source: National Alliance for Public Charter Schools, April 2016. Based on interviews with 1,003 parents.

PROGRESS IN ACTION

powered by